National Weather Service Weather Spotter Class

Learn how to report weather phenomena and more importantly, learn what kind of weather to report and when to report it.

Tuesday,
March 31, 2009

7:00 – 10:00 pm

East Shoreline Chapter
Red Cross

228 Washington Ave.
Bay City, MI 48708

Tornados, flash floods, hail, windstorms and lightning (thunderstorms) are all natural occurrences over which we have no control. With your help, we can provide the precious time needed to inform the community of severe weather.

Anyone interested in learning more about becoming a severe weather spotter, and how to report severe weather should attend this class. If you are interested in attending or for more information contact Wendy Donnelly of the Bay County Emergency Preparedness & Management Division and ask to register for the class. The Registration deadline is: March 26, 2009.

For Registration Information:

Phone: (989) 895-4157
E mail: donnelyw@baycounty.net
Fax: (989) 895-2083
Website: <http://www.baycounty-mi.gov/ESHS>

Emergency Services Personnel,
Schools, Daycares, Nursing Homes and Senior Centers are all recommended to have a representative attend the Weather
Spotter training.
